

Rosé and Blanc de Noir

Many people have some difficulty nowadays in deciding whether rosé wines should be termed a quality wine or not. My answer is "YES", as the most of the modern rosés are dry and full of fruits and often are made from Grenache, Cabernet Sauvignon, Syrah or Merlot.

		€
2007	Medina Vineyards Grenache Rosé ~ Delicata ~ D.O.K. Malta A delightful fruity rosé wine made entirely from the Malta grown red grape variety Grenache.	19.00
2007	Montepulciano d'Abruzzo ~ Villa Gema ~ D.O.C. Abruzzo ~ Italy Fully dry and yet serious rosé wine that offers a bunch of red fruit aromas and elegance on palate.	33.40
2006	Mouton Cadet Rosé ~ Rothschild ~ A.O.C. Bordeaux ~ France The nose included a bit of toast and fruit, the taste and aftertaste very stylish with a pure dry sensation.	28.05
2007	Rosé d'Anjou ~ A. Bichot ~ A.O.C. Loire ~ France A pale, light slightly sweet rosé from the Loire valley. Quite an interesting example of rosé, great aperitif.	26.60
2007	Sancerre Rosé ~ P. Jaboulet ~ A.O.C. Sancerre ~ Loire ~ France One of the best rose wines on the world. It is fully dry, elegant with lots of gentle red fruits aroma. Excellent!	43.30
N.V.	Mateus Rosé ~ Sogrape ~ V.D.M. Baraída ~ Portugal The world's biggest selling medium sweet, semi sparkling rosé, from Baraída that shows a massive improvement in quality lately.	19.80
2006	White Blush Zinfandel ~ Parducci ~ California ~ USA Crisp and refreshing, with distinct cherry and berry aromas. Off dry character with cherry palate.	27.95
2008	Santa Digna Rosé ~ Torres ~ Central Valley ~ Chile Its stylish charm is the result of careful and gentle vinification of the Cabernet Sauvignon grape variety.	24.80
2006	Malbec, Shiraz Rosé ~ F. Flichman ~ Mendoza ~ Argentina An attractive pink colour, this wine has super aromatic profile of strawberries and raspberry fruits.	20.15